Diamond Spectacles.

THESE SPECTACLES are manufactured from "MINUTE CRYSTAL PEBBLES" melted together, and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy. It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eye, because of their polarizing light. Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.
Manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Comp New York, for sale by responsible agents in every city in the Union. H. A. HEATH & CO., dealers and Opticians, are sole Agents for Newport, R. Peabody Medical Institute.
No. 4 Bulfinch street, Boston.
When a thing is counterfeited, it is a proof of its excellence and popularity. The Peabody Medical Institute is a case in point. Founded in good faith many years ago, and the only establishment of the kind in the country, its success and ever-increasing popularity finally caused the name (Medical Institute) to be pirated and adopted by a lot of infamous quacks, empirics and pretenders, who have been endeavoring to cheat the public by sailing under a stolen flag. The founder of the Peabody Medical Institute can in no way be held responsible for this misuse of the name of a reputable and well-known curative establishment and legitimate medical institution, which has been from the start specially devoted to the treatment of nervous derangements and affections, from whatever causes proceeding. During its existence there have issued from it several medical publications; but recently a work on Diseases of the Nervous System, which have had almost a world-wide circulation and popularity. These publications unfriendly attest the high character of the institution under whose patronage these medical works have been published. Meantime it is gratifying to know that several of the imputed charlatans, who have stolen its name to cover their nefarious practices, are getting their deserts in the penal institutions of the Commonwealth.—[Boston Herald. jan14-n&j-y1

TRANSPLANTED.

[From the Nursery for April.]

She was our little Rose—a bud half blown,
Pink, dewy, sweet; its beauty half unknown;
Oh, little rosebud! blighted, dead and gone!

The baby blossom was our Violet,
Forget-me-not, in our hearts' garden set;
Oh, new-made grave, with tears how wet!

Yet in sweet paradise our treasure flowers;
Forever beautiful, forever ours,
Christ-cherished, blooms in his celestial bowers.

[S. P. Bartlett.]

PRACTICAL POETRY.

VERSES FOR THE MILLION. LINES THAT ARE GOOD FOR EVERY DAY USE AND HAVE NO NONSENSE ABOUT THEM.

Everybody rejoices when a lazy fellow is compelled to work. It gives supreme satisfaction to see an habitual shirk effectually cornered. The most economical and conscientious will now and then rejoice at the destruction or injury of the most beautiful fabrics, if they have seemed to give any factitious importance to the body they covered. The neat kids, the shiny boots, the fine broad-cloth, never give their wearer so keen a pleasure as they afford to his homespun and hard-worked neighbor when any contingency, compelling him to put forth his strength in some menial occupation, splits the kid, muddies the boot, and rumples the broad-cloth.

I suppose it is on this principle that all those good, sensible, practical people who consider poetry the natural loafer of literature seize every opportunity to put it to some homely use, and seem to delight in seeing it harnessed down to a plain, healthy moral, or made to express a geographical or meteorological fact. The despiser of Tennyson and ignorer of Whittier invariably resorts to

"Thirty days hath September, April, June and November," when he wishes to verify his date. He looks forth from his window, and discerns the signs of the sky with a muttered—

"Evening red and morning gray
Takes the traveller on his way."

He even regulates his household economy with such questionable symphony as—

"A stitch in time Saves nine."

His children are taught their first lessons of thrift in the couplets—

"See a pin and let it lay,
And you'll have bad luck all day:
See a pin, and pick it up,
And all day you'll have good luck."

As often as there is a funeral in his family he searches the hymn book for a rhyme to be placed on the tombstone: and, if the event calls out a few original stanzas from some local muse, the copy is preserved forever in the family scrap book.

It is but a few years since one of these geniuses, who periodically burst upon the public schools with a scheme of learning, so sugared and honeyed that the children cry for it, turned "Peter Parley's Geography" into verse, and set thousands of classes to singing, in concert, complete lists of bays, rivers, capes and capitals. He was followed by one who developed the same idea in the realm of philosophy, and whose crowning triumph was the couplet by which he taught the order of the colors of the rainbow—

"On memory's tablet those shall live,
While we can spell the word R-O-Y-G-B-I-V."

But more troublesome to remember than dates, facts and geographical statistics, yet more mortifying to forget, are the elaborate requirements of etiquette. The completest victory of those who lash solid facts to buoyant poetry, that the whole may float gracefully in the memory, has been achieved by a genius who reduces the whole science to plain rules, and puts every rule in rhyme. Landor's couplet—

"That man is foolish who supposes
Those dogs are ill who have hot noses"— was one of the accidental touches which so often precede a great discovery. The riper genius grasps the principle, and gives it a complete application. Thus we read—

"'Tis a pity if you have a cold,
But worse if the sad fact be told
By every kind of uncouth sound,
Annoying every one around,
So let the secret be confined
To your own handkerchief and mind."

Here is an essential principle of politeness so wedded to sweet verse that even a child cannot misunderstand or forget it:

"In company, your teeth to pick
Would make refined beholders sick."

The world wide discussion on the proper use of the knife and fork is all summed up and settled by this suggestive passage:

"If you should, in a moment rash,
Reverse their use, perhaps you'd gash
A mouth already far too wide,
And shock all who might see, beside.
Bread, nuts and fruit, dear sir, or madam,
Eat in the mode of Eve and Adam."

Verily, poetry is good for something, after all: but, like a wilful child, one must know how to manage it.—[Rossiter Johnson.

GRAFTING FRUIT TREES—GRAFTING.

As the time has arrived when grafting is in order, we repeat our former advice that every farmer should do his own grafting. It is a very easy operation when once understood, and this is readily done by seeing it done. A sharp penknife and a good fine saw are indispensable. Splitting the stock so that the bark shall not be bruised, and shaping the scion wedge fashion both ways, preserving also the bark uninjured, and placing the rim of the wood of both stock and scion exactly together, so that the sap can intermingle—there is no danger of failure if properly waxed. We make a shoulder to the graft and think it adds to the certainty of success, though it probably weakens it. We prefer also two eyes or buds to a graft, and would rather have only one than more than two. One year's wood should always be used when it can be obtained as it is more certain to take and grow more vigorously, and the graft should be cut from bearing branches.

We wish to remind those preparing grafting wax, that we have found four parts of resin, one part of beeswax, and one part beef tallow to be the best proportions. Melt them together in a skillet (which is best), or a tin cup, and mix well. It should remain in the vessel and used as needed. Twenty or thirty scions can be waxed with one heating up. When much grafting is to be done, a little fire for heating the wax should be made on the spot, between the bricks or stones. Apply with a narrow wood paddle.

We have seen various preparations for making grafting wax and we believe we have tried them all, but prefer our own. Applying it warm or hot does no injury to the graft. The object to attain in the proportion is that the wax will not crack in cool, dry weather, or run in warm weather. If, however, upon trial, different proportions be required, the foregoing can be altered, though after using them in several ways we have come back to these.

There are many curious facts about vegetable life. We can, for example, graft the apricot on the plum, and the peach on the apricot, and the almond on the peach, and thus we may produce a tree with plum roots and almond leaves. The wood, however, of the stem will consist of four distinct varieties, though formed from one continuous layer. Below the almond wood and bark we shall have perfect peach wood and bark, then perfect apricot and bark, and at the bottom perfect plum wood and bark. In this curious instance we see the intimate correspondence between the bark and the leaf, for if we should remove the almond branches we might cause the several sorts of wood to develop buds and leafy twigs each of its own kind. Each section of the compound stem has its seat of life in the cambium layer, and the cambium of each reproduces cells of its own species out of a common nutrient fluid.—[Massachusetts Ploughman.

A SELL NOT A SALE.—Amiable shop keepers deserve to be canonized. Here is an illustration of the trials to which they are constantly subjected. One mid-summer day, when Æolus slept, and the thermometer stood in the nineties, a lady entered a store not a thousand miles off, and inquired for parasols. The obliging proprietor spread out before her samples of a large and varied stock. "Have you any of this shade a size larger?" said the lady. The size larger was produced. "I think on the whole I prefer the size smaller." The size smaller was presented. "Have you any of this size a lighter shade of blue?" The required shade was brought out. "Haven't you any of this kind with crooked handle?" The shade with the crooked handle appeared. "Have you any with the crooked handle not quite so heavy," said the lady, and so continued her inquiries for every conceivable size, shade and weight possible in the line of parasols. After nearly an hour had been thus consumed the fair shopper gathered up her handkerchief and gloves, and moved for the door. "Can't I sell you a parasol?" inquired the exhausted proprietor. "O! dear, no," replied the lady, "I was merely inquiring the prices. I am going into mourning myself, and have one for sale."—[New Bedford Mercury.

FRIDAY, MARCH, 27, 1874.

THE DAY.

Mr. Pratt has telegraphed to us that a bill prohibiting the sale of liquor this morning passed in the house of representatives. The General Assembly in grand committee has elected Col. T. Miller brigadier general of the Second brigade.

The Senate has voted against limiting the currency to $356,000,000 and in favor of the $400,000,000 bill. The inflationists believe they can carry through the free banking proposition.

The House has adopted Mr. McCrary's bill for the regulation of interstate commerce by a vote of 121 to 116. With some exceptions, the East opposed the bill and the West supported it; the Democrats opposed it and the Republicans supported it.

The result of the Massachusetts Senatorial contest is involved in as much obscurity as the verdict of a petit jury. The balloting continued yesterday and Dawes seemed to to gain a little but he had forty five votes less than the necessary number. Hoar is pretty close behind. The Democrats stick to Judge Curtis with a heroism worthy of a better cause. Adams holds his baker's dozen and Banks still votes solitarily for Whittier.

PROHIBITION.

The Concord philosopher, we hope soon to say the lord rector of the University of Glasgow, has declared that the best way to reform the world is to begin with number one; when that individual is reformed there will be at least one less knave in the world. So the temperance reform, especially in states where the local option law prevails, is one to begin in one's own city or town. Our city government has the power to grant or refuse licenses. If the Prohibitionists can elect three aldermen we can have a prohibitory law here in Newport, and if the proper executive officers are chosen the law can be enforced as well here as it is anywhere.

We believe, then, that the best policy for the Prohibitionists to pursue is to concentrate all their efforts on the local issue. State temperance conventions and tickets will be in place afterwards. The trouble with some of the Prohibitionists is that they will accept no compromise and no partial success. They must carry the state, or the whole country, or the whole carry nothing. The Prohibitionists of New Hampshire made a mistake. They refused the half loaf that the Republican party offered them and by insisting on the whole loaf they gave the victory to the Democrats and the temperance cause in its legal aspect has been put back one year. The Prohibitionists are worse off than they were last year.

The enthusiastic meeting last night was opportune. An election is approaching. Let the voters have their attention called to the moral sentiments of the community. Make them realize the terrible effects of licensing the liquor traffic. Then let the most active and influential Prohibitionists save their power instead of wasting it on such ornamental game as Congressmen and governors and devote all their energies to electing three aldermen who will never vote to grant a license and executive officers who will not wait a year or two after the violation of the law before they make complaints and bring the offenders to trial.

There is an awakening on this subject. The meeting last night showed it. If the managers do not sacrifice practical gains to abstract principles we may hope to see a prohibitory law here within the next two months. Let us have more mass meetings and a vigorous canvass of the city before the next election.

STATE MISCELLANY.

The Rev. A. B. Warner, of Providence, immersed eight more converts in the mill pond, at Rocky Brook, on Sunday last, further fruits of the revival now in progress, at Advent chapel. A large concourse of people witnessed the baptismal ceremonies, and much interest is still felt in the work.

A quantity of cigars, liquors and wines, imported from the West Indies, and taken in charge by the collector of the port at Bristol by reason of their not being on the manifest of the vessel, and no one appearing to claim them, were sold for the benefit of the government at the auction room of George H. Reynolds, on Monday morning. The novelty of the sale drew together a large crowd of people. The cigars were sold in lots from 500 to 1,000; and were struck off at moderate prices, but the liquors and wines, which were sold in the original packages, elicited much competition, and sold well. It was stated at the auction that there had been no public sale of liquors in Bristol for several years, and the people were becoming dry.

PERIODICALS.

Every Saturday.

Every Saturday for April 4th continues His Two Wives, by Mary Clemmer Ames and Far from the Madding Crowd. Among other good articles in the laboratory with Agassiz and Woman's Work Abroad are especially interesting.

Hearth and Home.

Hearth and Home continues the two serials that have been running for some time and contains several other good articles. The Heroism of the Curfew tells in prose an exciting story, the poetical version of which has recently been published by several papers, including the NEWS. Bits of Rhyme is quite a treasury of poetic thoughts. The editorials are By Way of Supplement, Unsuspected Orphans, Pulpit and Pews, and That Sleepy Child.

Blackwood's Magazine.

In Blackwood's Magazine for March we find continuations of the serials "Valentine and his Brother," and "Disorder in Dreamland," and the first part of a new story, "Alice Lorraine," which promises to surpass the others in interest. "The Two Speransky—Part II.," tells of Elizabeth Speransky-Ingreeff, who, though unhappy in her domestic life, was the centre of a brilliant circle in St. Petersburgh, was a great traveler, and the author of several novels and other books written in French. "Lord Stanhope and the Historians of Queen Anne's Reign" is, perhaps, the most striking article in this number. It contains sketches of many of the prominent men of the day, including Marlborough, Godolphin, "Orator Henley," etc., besides a brief notice of some of the more important events of that reign. There are also a couple of poems, "Horatian Lyrics," and two political articles, "The Elections of 1868 and 1874," and "Mr. Gladstone's Night Attack and its Results."

The Phrenological Journal.

The April number contains a portrait and sketch of Mr. Cleveland Abbe, of the signal bureau, universally known as "Probabilities;" an analytical paper on the causes of vice and crime, with some practical hints toward their remedy; a sketch of the eminent authoress Madame Schwartz, and a fine portrait; Heads, Hats and Character, hits off some of the people we meet, both in its text and illustrations; in Physiology of the Sexes, a writer takes Mr. Spencer to task for some narrow views of "the sex;" New Englanders will be pleased doubtless, to read something about their favorite railroad man, Mr. James Parker; besides, we have something humorous, in My Impressions of Names, and Stolen Glimpses, and much that is agreeably instructing in Our Evergreen Trees: Press Notices; Anybody can do it, and much that everybody should read in Was He Born So? Vitality and Chemistry, Commercial Obstructions, Agricultural Hints, etc. Terms $3.00 a year. 30 cents a number. Address, S. R. WELLS, New York.

He will have supreme command over Cuba and Porto Rico. The same despatch reports the report that General Burriel, late governor of Santiago, is to be made field marshal.

About fifty ladies under the auspices of the Maryland Temperance Alliance, accompanied by its officers and a number of clergymen of Baltimore, visited on Wednesday and memorialized Annapolis delegates for the local option law. The and the house of appearance of the ladies created confusion the house soon adjourned, giving up to the ladies and the temperance advocates, most of the members disbursing. Hymns were sung, after which the party proceeded to the First Methodist Episcopal church, where a temperance meeting was held. The impression upon the legislature was not favorable.

A postal car, in charge of a United States mail agent, will be put upon the New Bedford railroad, to run between New Bedford and Lowell, on Monday, April 20th. The train will leave the former city about 6 o'clock in the morning, and return in the evening. Mail matter by this train will reach its destination as early as if deposited in the post office in time for the mail by the 3 40 train on the previous day.

Fire broke out at ten o'clock Wednesday night in the basement of a small brick block in St. Albans. The basement was occupied by Hale as a soap factory, the first story by Michael Edwards as a grocery and liquor store. The estimated loss is $25,000 to $30,000—insured. This is the first fire since the new water works were in working order. A violent wind was blowing at the time, and the water works are regarded as a profitable investment, as it is by this means, undoubtedly, that the fire was confined to the building.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

Twenty six more machinists, carpenters, blacksmiths and helpers were discharged from the Washington navy yard Tuesday.

The House appropriations committee agreed Wednesday, to report one million dollars to cover deficiencies in the expenses of Indian Agencies in New Mexico and Arizona. Secretary Delano accounts for this large deficiency by saying that Gen. Crook has managed so successfully in conducting operations against the Indians that an unusually large number have been compelled to stay on their reservations.

Mr. E. H. Roberts has recently presented to the committee on ways and means three bills to amend the existing laws in regard to motions to informers, seizures of books and papers, and what is technically known as damage allowances. It is understood that the bills have been prepared by, and represent the views of, the Treasury department. They have not been considered by the committee; but it is very likely that their general principles will receive the approval of the committee, and that some such measure will be reported to the House.

The report of Judge Lawrence, chairman of the House committee on war claims, was considered at its meeting this morning, and, after considerable modification, authority was given to report the same to the House. The conclusion arrived at by Judge Lawrence is that the government is not legally bound to make compensation for property used, occupied, damaged or destroyed in the late war by the United States forces, but that whatever is done is to be considered as an act of grace and mercy.

GREAT TEMPERANCE MASS MEETING AT THE OPERA HOUSE LAST EVENING.—A LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE.—ELOQUENT ADDRESSES BY THE REV. MESSRS. WHEELER AND KIMBALL.—A UNANIMOUS VOTE IN FAVOR OF A PROHIBITORY LAW.

In response to the call for a temperance mass meeting the Opera House was completely filled last evening. At half-past seven o'clock Mr. William B. Swan called the meeting to order and the Rev. Charles Howard Malcom was elected chairman. On taking the place of the presiding officer Mr. Malcom spoke of the importance of the theme of the evening and expressed the hope that the meeting would result in more determined efforts to fight against the great evil of intemperance. He hoped that every thing would be done in such a way as to merit the approval and blessing of God.

The audience then joined in singing the hymn

"Welcome to join our band," to the air, "American." Mr. Thomas Spencer, organist at the Unitarian church, presided at the organ.

Prayer was then offered by the Rev. Mahlon Van Horne after which the hymn

"Slavery and death the cup contains."

was sung to "Hamburg."

Mr. Malcom introduced

THE REV. N. J. WHEELER

who said he felt hardly prepared to speak but he felt it his duty to do what he could.

He therefore stood on the platform this evening to do what he could to create a public sentiment that would frown on the legal traffic. He took for his text the lines

Moral suasion for the man who drinks
Mental suasion for the man who thinks
Legal suasion for the drunkard maker
Prison suasion for the statute breaker.

[Applause.]

The speaker proceeded to denounce the practice of licensing the sale of intoxicating drinks which has only a tendency to produce drunkards.

A man who exposed his children to evil influences and then punished them for yielding to those influences would be quite as logical as a municipality that licenses liquor selling and punishes the drunkard. The foundation from which moral suasion can be applied to a drunkard is his self respect. If he is treated as a criminal for simple drunkenness he loses his self-respect and becomes a hopeless case.

The second point is mental suasion for the man who thinks. There are many who are just beginning to sip their wine and beer and many who have not yet begun to drink. These must be approached by arguments, by instances, by citing the awful examples of drunkards, by showing the crime and misery caused by the liquor traffic. Such meetings as this are calculated to benefit all classes; to persuade those who are waving.

The great temperance movement of today comes under the head of mental suasion. Much good is to be expected from it although many of the excesses committed in the West are rather a caricature of religion than any thing else, but yet it arouses public attention and makes conspicuous the horrors of drunkenness.

Thirdly, legal suasion for the drunkard maker. Our laws reach some of the worst cases. They are not good enough but they ought to be executed such as they are. The speaker felt obliged to believe that our city government is blind—willfully blind—to violations even of our license law. Liquor sellers are allowed here to go on with their business even after they have forfeited their licenses. There are members of our city government who look away and say they see no violations of the law. Our laws should be executed. We ought also to have more strict laws. He was encouraged to believe that a prohibitory law might be adopted by this General Assembly. [Applause.]

And lastly, prison suasion for the statute breaker. We do wrong to punish the tempted man instead of the tempter. The law ought to reach the man who is so lost to all sentiment of humanity that he will make money out of the misery of his victims. [Applause.]

The piano struck up "John Brown" and the audience joined in with the words:

"Oh! brothers on to meet the foe that we abhor,"

At this point a collection was taken up to defray the expenses of the meeting. After the pennies had ceased rattling was introduced and received with applause. Mr. Kimball began by expressing his pleasure that the Opera House should be so full on such an occasion as the present. The theme is an old one, and its professional advocates are often maligned.

THE REV. J. C. KIMBALL.

But all of us who speak in favor of temperance are not all hypocrites and we do not all keep private jugs out of which we drink to the success of the temperance cause. Our hearts are lacerated as we see and hear of the terrible effects of liquor drinking. Some of us have seen friends attacked by this enemy of the human race, some of us have even felt its clutches on ourselves. We speak from no self conceit but from a sense of duty and of love to our fellow men.

There can be no question of the magnitude of the evil of intemperance nor of the need of temperance meetings and women's movements. What is the cause of the long lists of crimes that fill our newspapers, that increase our taxes, that fill the world with misery? Seventy five per cent. of all crimes and eighty per cent. of all pauperism are attributable to intoxication.

We are accused of intemperance in our statements. The speaker once asked a friend who brought forward this objection to notice the next six murders and their causes. Four days afterward the gentleman met him and told him that the evils resulting from intemperance had not been exaggerated. The six murders had already occurred and five of them were caused by liquor.

What has stirred up the thousands of women in the West to the work they have been doing? Drink has robbed them of fathers, husbands, sons, and all forms of happiness. And this thing is going on all over the country, even here in Newport.

In all the horrors of shipwreck, pestilence, famine or fire there is nothing that can compare with the death those die who perish from liquor. This evil extends over all sections of the country and into all classes of society. No human being has any right to stand aloof from this great movement. It appeals to mothers and wives and sisters who are liable at any time to suffer from the drunkenness of relatives.

A few years ago there was a lady in New York who had five sons just entering manhood. She laughed at the necessity of her manly sons needing to sign the pledge or being taught at home the practice of total abstinence. In four years she lost all her five sons, and every one of them by drunkenness.

What are we to do in this matter? In the first place we should every one pledge ourselves never—never—to touch the fatal cup. It may not be a sin in itself, but it can never pay for the risk it involves. Our denunciations of moderate drinking are not fanatical. A certain proportion of moderate drinkers is certain to become drunkards. Would you travel on a railroad that destroyed one tenth of its passengers when you could travel on a road on which every one was perfectly safe?

The best remedy is not the one that has the most logic on its side but the one that accomplishes the cure. Let women pray this thing down: let the Washingtonians persuade it down: let voters vote it down. But let us be sure to strike the evil wherever it appears.

This is the grandest reform that ever was undertaken and it demands the most earnest efforts of every one of us. This is like the noble cause of anti-slavery, only a thousand times more important because it is the cause of liberty for our minds and souls. The cause is spoken against. It is called fanatical, unconstitutional, even un-Biblical, but all this was once said of the cause of anti-slavery.

The abolitionists won the most complete victory ever known. Today there is not a slave in the country and scarcely a politician who does not claim to have been an original, dyed in the wool abolitionist. So the cause of temperance will prevail. [Applause.] not perhaps today, nor tomorrow, but in the end it shall prevail though we have to fight a thousand years. [Applause.]

"Round the temperance standard rally,"

was then sung.

Mr. Malcom said there was a strong probability that the legislative committee on the subject would recommend the passage of a prohibitory law. He thought an expression of the opinion of the meeting would be appropriate. It was moved and seconded that this meeting express its desire for a prohibitory law. The motion was unanimously adopted.

The meeting was closed by the singing of the doxology.

THE AYRAULT STREET SEWER.

NEWPORT, March, 20th 1874.

To the Editor of the Daily News.

SIR:—I notice in your issue of today an item referring to the Ayrault street sewer as an expensive botch.

A few facts bearing upon the question might effect the statement.

The sewer was laid in a thorough and workmanlike manner (about this I believe there is no doubt) according to plans furnished me by the surveyor, appointed by the chairman of the committee upon highways: it is five feet deep from top of curb, being one foot deeper than any sewer in the city excepting the Webster street and Narragansett avenue sewers. As now laid it drains thoroughly all the streets intended and all the adjoining estates upon the west side and a large part of the land on the east side. Part of the land on the east side descends very rapidly, and all of them can drain their cellars on their own land.

The only trouble is in regard to the drainage of two or three estates of their cesspools and water closets and upon this subject too much cannot be said in condemnation of the present policy pursued by the city in allowing them to be chained at all into our sewers, imperfectly provided as they are with traps and having no arrangement for flushing excepting the natural rain fall.

If you or any one interested would take our city map and follow the course of this drain they would see grave objections, I think, to any alterations.

The board of health ordered me last Summer to cut off all cesspool drains leading into the Bath road sewer in consequence of the dangerous nuisance at its outlet.

Yours Respectfully
JEREMIAH PEABODY.

JUSTICE COURT.

Friday 26.—The complaint against Joseph Pickford for selling liquor without having a license to do so, from the board of aldermen, was called up again this morning, and further testimony was heard. The evidence given on Tuesday last, (when the case was partially heard), by Dennis O'Keefe who was at one time a boarder in Pickford's house, was positive and convincing as well as convicting, so much so that the case was submitted by the city solicitor without argument. After the testimony of the witness called by the state today, and which added nothing to the proof of his guilt, Pickford was adjudged to be guilty and was thereupon sentenced to pay a fine of twenty dollars and all costs of prosecution and conviction and to be imprisoned in the Newport county jail for and during a term of ten days. The costs were paid by the respondent and an appeal taken to the ensuing May term of the court of common pleas,—Thomas Read becoming his surety in the sum of one hundred dollars.

The complaint against John Wilson was also brought up this morning, and with the consent of the city marshal as complainant as well as by the advice of the city solicitor, it was withdrawn upon payment of costs so far accrued in consideration of an indictment found against him for the same offence by the grand jury of the supreme court at its recent March term—as he could not very well receive two penalties for the same crime at the same time.

How Not to Die.

Thousands fall a prey to disease not because the maladies which affect them are necessarily fatal, but because they lack the requisite amount of active vitality to make a valiant resistance to the enemy. It is a wise precaution to keep the body always in a state of defence—always prepared to "fend off" the germs of epidemic and other disorders, and to baffle the evil influence of damp miasma and sudden thermometrical changes. There is no difficulty in doing this. It is a fact as well authenticated as that two and two make four that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is especially adapted to this purpose, and for the simple reason that its invigorating and regulating properties are superior to those of any other medicine in the world. During the twenty-five years that it has been in general use, ample opportunities have been afforded to compare its medicinal properties with those of other preparations claiming to be of a similar class, and the result has been its adoption by the American people as the standard tonic of the age, its introduction into every civilized portion of the western hemisphere, and the annual sale which dwarfs into insignificance the demand for all its would-be competitors.

The record upon which its popularity rests is a curiosity in medicinal literature, for it includes an almost unlimited variety of human ailments and disabilities. In fact, no other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues and it is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine.

It is no exaggeration to say that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most faithful ally of nature, in her struggles with weakness and disease, that medical botany and honest chemistry has yet given to the world.

Something certain at last.—PILES is not only one of the most painful of human diseases, but professional men had almost despaired of finding a remedy, until the introduction of Anakesis by Dr. Sykes, and after an experience of 20,000 cases in five years, doctors agree that an infallible remedy has been found. Sufferers will appreciate Anakesis after trying everything else in vain and then experiencing the bliss of instant relief and ultimate cure. Price $1.00. Sold by Druggists everywhere. FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1874.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK.

Beecher's Church Refuses to Join in the Council.

NEW YORK, March 26.—A large meeting assembled at Plymouth church this morning. After opening prayer by Rev. Edward Beecher, a committee from the Congregational council was admitted, which presented a resolution of the council inviting Plymouth church to attend the council and present its views. On motion of Henry Ward Beecher, a committee of Plymouth church was appointed to consider and report upon the invitation, and the committee subsequently reported in an address protesting against any action whatever by this council upon any issue relating to Plymouth church, giving among other reasons that it is an ex parte council, and appears subversive of the whole system of mutual councils; that this council was summoned to advise under menace, distrust and moral coercion; that the charges against Plymouth church are based upon reported speeches of its pastor, and that by its own acts and declarations only it will be judged. They therefore protest against formulating the usages of the churches into a code of ecclesiastical law binding upon the consciences of the churches.

The committee offered a resolution that the church declines accepting the invitation on the ground that they cannot thus renounce their conscientious convictions, and lest by so doing a precedent should be established full of danger to smaller and weaker churches.

The address and resolution were adopted, and the church adjourned to meet Friday evening.

Serious Labor Riot.

About 11 o'clock this morning, between fifty and sixty Italians went from this city to Hoboken for the purpose of working on the new tunnel of the Delaware, Lackawana and Great Western Railroad. Just before they arrived at the tunnel they were attacked by about 100 strikers, who had been lying in wait, and were put to flight. The leader of the Italians, it is thought, is fatally wounded.

Another Erie Strike.

A despatch from Susquehanna depot, Pa., states that 900 men employed in the Erie Railway machine shop struck for their pay for February, yesterday. The turning table was rendered useless, the engines in the shop and yard had pins taken out rendering them useless, and all arriving trains are so crippled that they cannot go on. None but mail trains are allowed to proceed.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE TEN-HOUR LAW.
Large Meeting in its Favor in Fall River.

FALL RIVER, MASS., March 25.—A large multitude assembled at the Temple this evening to take action upon the ten-hour law now before the senate. The meeting was called under the auspices of the five different unions: Loom fixers, spinners, weavers, card grinders and pickers and slashers, and the object was to express the indignation felt upon the matter. Mr. Levey called the meeting to order, and Judge Lapham was invited to preside, which compliment he accepted after a short and pertinent speech. Representative Davol was then called for, who rose and gave a history of the manipulations to which the bill had been subjected. He referred to his former speech here, and his prophecy that a bill would be passed by May. He now told them he was confident it would pass with the few amendments proposed. Representative McCowan then addressed the audience, informing his hearers that he supposed he should find none but gentlemen in the legislature, but he was sorry to learn from the behavior of some men on this bill that he had been mistaken. Their conduct was too provoking for his good nature, and he only wished he could have some of the opponents of the law a couple of weeks with him in the cotton factory.

The Ladies Insulted at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., March 26. The crusaders' work continued yesterday, special efforts being made to induce business men to close their stores one hour in the morning and afternoon to allow them to attend the daily prayer meetings. Most of the merchants agree to the plan, provided all do so, but no direct promises are obtainable. While one of the praying bands was at Corrodi's saloon the proprietor was invited to attend the prayer meetings. He in return denounced them as composed of hypocrites and street walkers, and otherwise insulted the ladies with language too foul for publication.

Fight with the Carlists at Bilboa.—Battle not Ended at Night.—The Spanish Loss Nearly 500.

MADRID, March 26.—A desperate engagement was fought yesterday before Bilboa. The Republican army under Serrano attacked the Carlists at six o'clock in the morning and met a stubborn resistance. The battle was kept up all day, and was only stopped by night, when the Republicans encamped on the positions they captured from the Royalists. The loss of the National troops was 470 men. Gen. Loma commanded the centre and General Deriora the right. It is possible that the battle will be resumed today.

Fire in Kittanning.

PITTSBURG, PENN., March 26.—A large woolen factory and warehouse of Goodhull & Underer, and the residence of William Pollock at Kittanning Pa., were burned this morning. Loss estimated at $100,000 which is principally covered by insurance.

The Providence Ladies and the Legislature.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 26.—Two or three score of Christian women, who have been holding prayer meetings for some time past, issued from their place of meeting in procession today and visited the State House, remaining in the representatives' hall while a member presented the memorial for the repeal of the liquor license law. Afterwards eight of the ladies visited two lager beer saloons, exhorted the proprietors to give up the business, without effect, and several offered prayer in each place. The movement was not generally anticipated, but created very little sensation.

Fire in Lowell.

LOWELL, Mass, March 26.—Cook's tannery in Ayer, New City, a part of Ward 4 was destroyed by fire at 7:15 this evening. Loss $75,000: insured in New York and western companies for $70,000. The cause of the fire is incendiarism. The building and machinery which were a model of their kind, were a total loss. They were owned by E. G. Cook of Milford, Mass.

THE PROVIDENCE CONFERENCE.

Second day—Report of the Presiding Elders—General Business Anniversary of the Conference Temperance Society.

NORTH BRIDGEWATER, March 26.—The Rev. J. B. Husted led the devotions of the conference. A large number of ministers from Boston and vicinity visited the conference today. S. M. Beal, A. P. Palmer, E. M. Smith, W. J. Smith and W. F. Whitcher were elected to elders' orders. Transfers of J. H. Sherman of Iowa and G. W. Miller of northern New York to this conference were announced, and they were introduced. J. W. Price, a probationer, was discontinued at his own request.

Providence district was called, and Dr. Talbot, presiding elder, read his fourth annual report. An unusual revival spirit has prevailed in the district resulting in nearly if not quite one thousand conversions. The most extensive revivals have been at Westerly, Eastford and Hope street, Providence. The societies at Westerly and Hope street are engaged in erecting new houses of worship—the vestries of both being now in use. A district home mission and church aid society have been formed which promise much for the development of the work in places not now reached. Debts on churches have in several cases been paid—one of $10,000 on the Mathewson street church, Providence; one of $1000 at Attleborough, and others. During the four years of his administration several new societies have been formed, and the work on the district is in a progressive state.

The roll of the district was called and the several missionary collections were announced. J. H. Cooley was granted a location; S. Fox was granted a superannuated relation.

Norwich district was called, and as the presiding elder, G. W. Brewster, retires this year by limitation, the ministers of the district, desiring to give expression to the cordial relations existing between them, presented to him a fine watch. This was intended to be a surprise, but the surprise was found to be on the other side when the recipient drew from his pocket and read an appropriate response. He then gave a most encouraging report of the state of the work in his district.

As the roll of the district was called it was announced that one man did not go to the work assigned him last year, but remained a fourth year, contrary to the rule of the church. For this, after a full discussion, he was censured. A communication was presented with reference to an episcopal residence for Bishop Wiley in Boston. The Rev. J. W. Hamilton addressed the conference on the subject, which was then referred to a committe. A committee was also appointed to consider what action should be taken with reference to certain ministers who have withdrawn from the church and yet refuse to give up their ministerial credentials.

In the afternoon the anniversary of the Conference Temperance Society was held, Rev. A. J. Church in the chair. Addresses were made by the Revs. G. E. Fuller, H. H. Martin and L. E. Sharplot. The women's movement was noticed, but the speakers did not agree in their estimate of its success.

Progress of the Women's Movement in Worcester.

WORCESTER, March 26.—The temperance crusade, after the manner originated in Ohio, may now be said to have been fully adopted by the praying women of this city. Saloon visitations, with prayers, singing and urgent appeals to dealers to abandon the business, and to spectators to sign the pledge, are now of daily occurrence, three or more bands making visitations morning and afternoon. The curiosity in regard to the movement has subsided, and the crowds of loafers which followed the women in their rounds for the first day or two have disappeared, so that now they go about in comparative quiet. The women, too, have overcome their own excitement and timidity in a great measure, and now enter upon the work cooly and earnestly.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION AT PROVIDENCE.

THURSDAY, March 26.

Senate.

The senate met at half past ten o'clock this morning, Lieut. Gov. Van Zandt in the chair. The standing committees reported the following business:

Judiciary—Mr. Currey's Act in relation to the public waters of the state; prohibiting the throwing of ashes and cinders into the bay north of a line from Nayatt Point. Read and passed in concurrence and sent to the engrossing committee.

Finance.—Mr. Cook: Resolution appropriating $260 66 for the completion of a fish ladder in Pawtucket river. Adopted in concurrence.

Mr. Saunders introduced a resolution appropriating $600 to pay the services of David Stephens, for two years, as secretary of the board of state valuation. Adopted without reference to committee.

Mr. Cook, from the committee on finance, reported, under a suspension of the rules, an act establishing the salary of the clerks of the supreme court and court of common pleas at $2,500 per year each.

Mr. Potter said the salaries ought to be $3,000, and gave numerous reasons for his opinion. He moved as an amendment that $3,000 be substituted for $2,500 in each case.

Mr. Currey said he believed there was another bill before the Assembly providing for an assistant clerk for each of these courts at a salary of $1000; If that bill passed he did not know as he should second the amendment proposed by the gentleman from Coventry, (Mr. Potter.) If it did not then he should certainly agree to the salaries being $3000. He therefore hoped that this act would be on the table till the fate of the other bill is determined.

The bill was then tabled temporarily in accordance with the suggestion of Mr. Currey.

Mr. Potter from the committee on engrossed bills, reported as truly and rightly engrossed the following, which were enacted in concurrence as so engrossed.

An act to incorporate the First Baptist Church at Cross' Mill, Charlestown.

Act amending Chapter 249, "Of the organization of the militia, etc."

Act amending the charter of the Coddington Savings Bank of Newport.

The senate then took a recess untill half-past twelve o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The senate reassembled at half past twelve, Lieutenant-Governor Van Zandt in the chair.

(From the house.)

Bill for an act to divide the town of North Providence and annex a portion thereof to the city of Providence, and a portion thereof to the town of Pawtucket. Read and passed in concurrence.

Also, from the house, a joint resolution continuing to the May session the petition of Frederick Tompkins and others, for act to incorporate the Newport Railroad Co. Referred to committee on corporations.

Also, resolution making appropriation for repairing and painting the court house in Washington county. Referred to committee on state property.

Mr. Potter, from the committee on engrossed bills, reported as truly and rightly engrossed, an act amending chapter 55, title IX of the general statutes, "Of legal proceedings relative to public schools," and the same was enacted in concurrence as so engrossed.

On motion of Mr. Verry, adjourned to Friday morning at 10½ o'clock.

House.

The house met as per adjournment, this morning, Mr. Speaker Metcalf in the chair.

Mr. Southwick, of Newport, presented the petition of Frederick Tompkins and others, for the passage of an act incorporating the Newport Horse Railroad Company. Received and referred to the committee on corporations.

Mr. Spencer of Providence, asked that the matter under discussion be postponed for a few moments, to allow him in behalf of those ladies present, (some sixty of whom, representing various churches and societies, had a few moments before quietly arrived at the State House and been furnished with seats in Representative's Hall), to present a memorial. This request was granted by general consent.

The memorial, which was signed by Sophia L. Little and four or five hundred others, was then read as follows;

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives.

A MEMORIAL.

The undersigned, residents of the city of Providence and vicinity, respectfully represent that as mothers, wives, sisters and daughters, they recognize the necessity of removing the sources of temptation which exist among us in the form of liquor shops of various grades and we do most earnestly beseech you, who, for the time being are intrusted with the legislative power of the state, to exercise that power by removing the license laws from the statute book of the same; and that you will enact such laws as will bring the whole power of the state to bear against the traffic in intoxicating liquors, and make suitable provision for the thorough enforcement of the same.

Mr. Spencer said he was deeply impressed by this memorial. It was a very inspiring sight to him, to see so many of these women here, and among them so many aged women. He hoped the memorial would be referred to the committee on moral reform, with instructions to report at an early day. He gave notice that if the committee did not report at an early day, he should take the liberty to introduce an act abolishing from all laws the right to grant licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors. He moved the memorial be received and referred to the committee on moral reform, which motion received several seconds, and was carried unanimously.

Mr. Richmond of Exeter, called for the special order of the day, the act in addition to chapter 140 of the general statutes, "Of banks and institutions for savings," which came from the joint special committee on savings banks, and was published in the report of the house proceedings of Tuesday last.

The question was taken on indefinite postponement, which was lost, and the bill was recommitted to the joint special committee.

Mr. Adams from the committee on finance reported favorably upon petition of Edwin B. Burnham, of North Providence for discharge from defaulted recognizance, and resolution granting prayer of petitioner was read and passed.

On motion of Mr. Day, of the finance committee, that committee was discharged from the further consideration of senate resolution making an appropriation for the repair of the state arsenal in Providence, and it was referred to the committee on state property.

At three o'clock the house adjourned till tomorrow morning at 10½ o'clock.

NEW YORK ITEMS.

Mrs. Conway has sued Madame Janauscheck for $10,000 damages for refusing to play at the Brooklyn theatre.

Ex-Auditor Dunan publishes a card in reply to the Erie directors, reiterating his previous assertion that the floating debt of the Erie Railroad is seven millions.

One of a gang of river thieves was shot Tuesday morning, while escaping from the Erie pier in a boat. They had broken open a freight car when the watchman came upon them, on whom they fired and fled, he returning the fire.

At the mass meeting of the working men Wednesday at Cooper Institute to protest against the report of the United States supervising architect on the eight hour law resolutions were adopted denouncing members of Congress and the legislature of the state for dereliction of duty to the cause of labor. Addresses in support of the resolutions were made by different speakers, who also denounced Commissioner Van Nort, of the public works, in relation to the bill on riverside improvements pending now before the legislature.

FRIDAY, MARCH, 27, 1874.

A BALKY HORSE.—There are two ways of managing a balky horse. My companion knew one of them and I the other. His method is to sit quietly in the wagon, and at short intervals throw a small pebble at the horse. The theory is that these repeated sudden annoyances will operate on a horse's mind, and he will try to escape them by going on. The spectators supplied my friend with stones, and he pelted the horse with measured gentleness. Probably the horse understood this method, for he did not notice the attack at all. My plan was to speak gently to the horse requesting him to go, and then to follow the refusal by one sudden, sharp cut of the lash; to wait a moment, and then repeat the operation. The dread of the coming lash after the gentle word will start any horse. I tried this, and with a certain success. The horse backed us into the ditch, and would probably have backed himself into the wagon, if I had continued. When the animal was at length ready to go, Davie took him by the bridle, ran by his side, coaxed him into a gallop, and then, leaping in behind, lashed him into a run, which had little respite for ten miles, up hill or down. Remonstrance on behalf of the horse was in vain, and it was only on the return home that this specimen Cape Breton driver began to reflect how he could erase the welts from the horse's back before his father saw them.—[C. D. Warner, in April Atlantic.

There is a Danbury legend to the effect that a party desiring to transact some private business with another, was invited by the other to step into a neighboring store. "But we will be disturbed there," said the first party. "Oh, no," said the second party, "they don't advertise."

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St., Boston.

AFTER AN EXTENSIVE PRACTICE of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMOND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.
